Summary

Pushing Up the Sky

Long ago, the sky was very close to Earth. This might sound like a lot of fun, but it was in the way. The chiefs all got together and had a meeting to decide what to do. It was decided that if they pushed together with long poles, they might succeed in pushing the sky out of the way. Their efforts moved the sky to where it is today!

Activity

What If the World Was Like That? Imagine that the world was very different in one way, much as the sky was very different in the story Pushing Up the Sky. What problems would this cause? Make up a play about the problem and the way you and your family would solve it.

Comprehension Skill

Literary Elements: Character, Setting, and Plot

A character is a person or animal in a story. The setting is when and where a story takes place. The plot of a story includes the important events that happen at the beginning, middle, and end.

Activity

Mixed-up Stories You will need ten slips of paper. On five of them, write a character's name. On the other five, write a setting. Keeping the two groups separate, turn all slips of paper facedown. Family members take turns picking a character and a setting and telling a story about them. After each story, another family member tells important details about the story's plot.

Lesson Vocabulary

Words to Know

Knowing the meanings of these words is important to reading Pushing Up the Sky. Practice using these words.

Vocabulary Words

Conventions

Main and Helping Verbs

Main verbs show the action in the sentences. Helping verbs can show the time of the action. Have, has, had, will, is, am, are, was, and were can be helping verbs. A verb phrase uses a main verb and a helping verb together.

We were running.

They are climbing.

The dogs have barked before.

Activity

Using Verb Phrases Write main verbs and helping verbs, each on an index card. Divide the cards into main verb and helping verb piles. Mix each pile and place the cards facedown. Each player takes the two top cards and creates a verb phrase. Then the player uses the verb phrase in a sentence. If the helping verb and main verb do not make sense together, return the helping verb to the bottom of the pile and choose another helping verb card until a phrase can be made that makes sense.

Name _____

Literary Elements: Character, Setting, and Plot

- A character is a person or animal in a story. You learn about characters by their words and actions.
- The setting is when and where a story takes place.
- The plot of a story includes the important events that happen at the beginning, middle, and end.

Directions Read the passage.

Long ago, two brothers lived in a cabin in the woods. One brother, Leon, was grumpy and lazy, but the other, Hal, was happy and hard working. On a cold winter day, they ran out of food. The first brother went back to bed, complaining bitterly. His brother went to the farmer next door. "I will work for food," he told the farmer. All day he cleaned the barn, fed the animals, and shoveled snow. The farmer gave him enough food for three brothers.

Directions Complete the chart. Write each character's name and a word or phrase that describes the character. Write a phrase to describe each part of the setting. Then write a sentence that summarizes the plot.

Compare and Contrast

- To compare means to show how two things are alike.
- To contrast is to show how the two things are different.

Directions Read the story. Then follow the directions below.

One day a tall, handsome Moose was walking in the woods and met the tiny Weasel.

“I wish I had beautiful antlers like yours,” said Weasel. “Then people wouldn’t laugh at me for being little.”

“Be careful what you wish for,” said Moose.

That night, Weasel came out of his hole in the old log and saw the wishing star in the west. He closed his eyes and wished with all his might, “I wish I had big, beautiful antlers like Moose has!”

There was a sudden flash and Weasel fainted. When he woke up in the morning, his head felt funny. It was so heavy.

Weasel tried to walk but he could hardly lift his head. He made his way down to the lake. He saw himself in the water—he had huge antlers!

“How handsome I am,” said the foolish Weasel. Then he tried to take a drink, but lost his balance. Splash! He fell into the lake. Two crows burst out laughing.

Luckily Moose was nearby. He caught Weasel and gently lifted him out.

“These antlers are too heavy,” said Weasel, sadly. “You were right.”

Directions Use the Venn diagram below to compare and contrast Weasel and Moose. Then compare Moose to Coyote in Catch It and Run. Tell how they are alike or different. Use a separate sheet of paper.

Home Activity Your child read a story and then used a Venn diagram to compare and contrast story characters. Read a story with your child. Then compare and contrast the story characters.
